

Prescription Drug Assistance Programs Available in Virginia

1. The Low-Income Subsidy through Social Security

According to the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003 (MMA), Medicare implemented a prescription drug benefit starting in 2006.

Anyone who has Medicare can get Medicare Prescription Drug coverage. Extra help is available for some people with limited income and resources. It will pay for all or most of the monthly premiums and annual deductibles and lower the prescription co-payments related to their plan. The extra help could be worth up to $4,000 per year. Many people with limited income and resources qualify for these big savings and don't even know it. To find out if someone is eligible, Social Security will need to know their income and the value of their savings, investments and real estate (other than their home). If they are married and living with their spouse, we will need this information for both of them.

To qualify for extra help they must have:

- Income limited to $18,090 for an individual or $24,360 for a married couple living together.

Even if their annual income is higher, the ones you care about still may be able to get some help with monthly premiums, annual deductibles and prescription co-payments. Some examples where income may be higher include if they or their spouse:

- Support other family members who live with them;
  - Have earnings from work; or
  - Live in Alaska or Hawaii; and
- Resources limited to $13,820 for an individual or $27,600 for a married couple living together. Resources include such things as bank accounts, stocks and bonds. We do not count their house and car as resources.

Apply for extra help online at: www.socialsecurity.gov/extrahelp; or by calling Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778)

Additionally, the National Council on Aging sponsors a website that allows seniors to enter information to locate all assistance programs available based on individual information. Please visit <http://www.benefitscheckup.org> for more information.

3. Prescription Drug Discount Programs offered by organizations other than drug-manufacturing companies.

Prescription drug discount programs are also offered by non-pharmaceutical organizations.

Two examples of this type of program are Needymeds.org (<http://www.needymeds.org>), and FreeMedicineFoundation.com (<http://www.freemedicinefoundation.com>). You can find other discount card programs by using an Internet search engine (such as <http://www.google.com> or <http://www.yahoo.com>) and using the search term “prescription drugs.”

4. Generic Drugs

You may be able to save money by using generic drugs rather than brand-name drugs. When a drug company develops a new drug, they give it a brand-name and obtain a patent for it from the U.S. Food & Drug Administration (FDA). The patent gives the drug company the exclusive right to make the brand-name drug for a certain period of time. This allows the drug manufacturer to earn back the money they invested in developing and testing the drug.

Once the patent expires, other drug companies can apply to the FDA to sell their version of the same drug. These versions are called generic drugs, and they are often less expensive than the original. If you are trying to save money on your prescriptions, you may want to consider talking with your doctor to see if the generic version of a drug would be all right for you to use.

All drugs sold in the United States must be approved by the FDA regardless of whether they are brand-name or generic, so consumers can be sure that the drugs they take have been approved by a federal agency. For more information on generic drugs, visit these web sites listed below:

- Blue Cross & Blue Shield: Generic Drugs: The Unadvertised Brand – (<http://www.theunadvertisedbrand.com/>)
- U.S. Food & Drug Administration's Generic Drug Brochure - http://www.fda.gov/cder/consumerinfo/generic\_equivalence.htm
- $4 generics at participating stores such as Walmart, Target, Kroger, etc.
